

DRY ANALYTICAL ELEMENT

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

- 5 A dry analytical element for colorimetric or turbidity analysis comprising a water-impermeable sheet that comprises an analyte storable area containing a necessary reagent for a designed analysis in dry state, wherein a specimen containing an analyte develops to the whole planar directions in substantially equal volume when it is supplied on the sheet.